Gentlemen:—

Gentlemen:

As long as I trade in "Wall St." I would never think of being without your Daily Market Letter. Would have been a HEAVY LOSER had I not had previous experience, viz., last December, that your information regarding the market was very reliable, and I am glad to say that I followed your advice and information since them, and have not only made good my previous losses, but also a good profit.

Enclosed please find check for fifteen ($16) dollars, for which kindly renew my subscription when same expires.

Very truly yours.

Gentlemen:—
Enclosed you will find fifteen ($15) dollars
for one month's subscription to your letter from present expiration of subscription. If your letter has been as good in the past as it has been during the five weeks I have taken it, it certainly has been a wonder.
I am naturally a chronic bear, and with your letter to back up my judgment I have beat
this market to a standstill since a week ago to-day, when you turned bears, and did not get rattled on the rully to-day, but extended my short line right on top.
Yours truly.
